

Have you explored life's biggest questions . . .

"What is the meaning of life?" "Why am I here?" "Why does mathematics work, anyway?" "If the universe had a beginning, who created it?" "Why are the physical constants in the universe so finely tuned to allow the possibility of complex life forms?" "Why do humans have a moral sense?" "What happens after we die" "Is there a God"?

. . . they are too important to ignore

Francis Collins MD PHD, renowned scientist and subsequently Director of the Human Genome Project, said this, "I had arrived at an answer to the most important issue that we humans ever face, 'Is there a God?' and I had arrived there without ever having looked at the evidence – and I'm supposed to be a scientist!"

"Now, I was still pretty sure that faith traditions were all superstition and something that would not apply to me, and something that I wouldn't be interested in. But I did feel compelled to find out a bit more about what it was that I had rejected."

Try Alpha

Alpha provides an opportunity to explore the meaning of life and it is designed primarily for people who don't go to church; people who wouldn't call themselves Christians. It allows time to discuss questions like 'why am I here', 'what's the purpose of life', 'does life have an ultimate meaning' and discuss these big questions in a way that's very low key, unpressurised non-confrontational - based on respect for people regardless of what they believe or what they think.

At Rostrevor, Spring Alpha 2021 will be available in two formats:

In-house Alpha at the Clay Cup Café

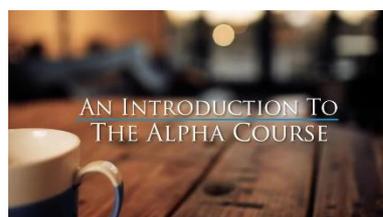

Come to the Launch Night dinner at 7:00pm on Monday 30 August, at 288 Montacute Road Rostrevor, when the Alpha course will be introduced. Transport can be provided if required.

At this venue, Alpha will be run in both English and Mandarin languages.

On-Line Alpha

Join us from wherever you are in the world from the comfort of your own home. The introductory On-Line Launch night will be at 7:30pm (Central Australian Time) on Thursday 2 September using Zoom.

Check out this short video clip for a taste of what Alpha is about:

We encourage you just to come to either of these introductory Launch nights so that you will be able to see what it is all about and then decide whether you'd like to continue. There is no cost for guests at Alpha.
